IV. Re-evaluation of rare species records

The following records have been re-evaluated by the Committee and based on new evidence and elements or facts or items (see individual records for outcome):

Lesser White-fronted Goose Anser erythropus

Evros, Evros Delta, 1630 individuals, 21+22/2/1963.

*This observation has been published in reports and papers, as well as in the BoG, as the highest ever count of the species in Greece. However, during the recent implementation of an international LIFE Project on the species, Scandinavian experts strongly questioned this record, due to the fact that this very high number is inconsistent with the then known population size of the species in Europe. The question was addressed to the HRC, which in collaboration with the author of the BoG, made a thorough and detailed search on the data files and existing literature. It was, therefore, discovered that: (a) the actual observers in their original report (Nisbet & Swift, 1963), do not mention any Lesser White-fronted Geese, but the 1630 individuals were, in fact, Greater White-fronted Geese (Anser albifrons), and (b) in a later paper (Hoffmann et al, 1964) these 1630 geese are again mistakenly reported as Lesser White-fronted and this was again cited in subsequent publications and the BoG. The HRC has therefore concluded that this record is no longer valid, because there is was no such observation and that all subsequent publications were based on the error in the 1964 report.*

Steppe Eagle Aquila nipalensis

Lasithi, Paximada, 1 individual, 14/9/1979.

This record was originally published in the BoG, but recently the two observers asked the HRC to delete this observation due to their own strong doubts about the identification of this particular bird.

Long-toed Stint Calidris subminuta

Lasithi, Vai, 1 individual in winter plumage, 28/3/1991.

*This observation was published in the BoG. Since, however, this is the first and only record of this Nearctic wader in Greece, the HRC recently asked the observer to submit photos to support the observation. Detailed examination of the photos has clearly shown that the bird is in fact a Little Stint (Calidris minuta). The species is therefore deleted from the List of the Birds of Greece.*

Greenish Warbler Phylloscopus trochiloides

Hania, Neo Horio Kydonias, 1 first year, 27/9/2000, (P.Smith).

*According to the most recent widely agreed phylogenetic research, the polytypic Greenish Warbler has been split in to two species: the polytypic Greenish Warbler (Phylloscopus trochiloides) and the monotypic Green Warbler (Phylloscopus nitidus). Thus, it was decided to reassess the two records previously accepted as Greenish Warbler (HRC, 2006).*

The Hania record will be reassessed in the near future, so for the time being, HRC prefers not to include Greenish Warbler in the List of the Birds of Greece.

Therefore, Greenish Warbler is removed from the List of the Birds of Greece.

Green Warbler Phylloscopus nitidus

Antikythira, Batoudiana, 1 first year P.t.nitidus, 18/9/1998, ringed, photo, (HBRC).

*According to the most recent widely agreed phylogenetic research, the polytypic Greenish Warbler has been split in to two species: the polytypic Greenish Warbler (Phylloscopus trochiloides) and the monotypic Green Warbler (Phylloscopus nitidus). Thus, it was decided to reassess the two records previously accepted as Greenish Warbler (HRC, 2006).*

Based on measurements and description, the Antikythira bird is identified and accepted as Green Warbler.

*Green Warbler is added to the List of the Birds of Greece after Rüppell's Warbler (Sylvia rueppelli) and before Arctic Warbler (Phylloscopus borealis).*

V. Species removed from the List of the Rare Birds of Greece

The Committee has reviewed the species it considers and the following species, now each with over 50 records, are to be removed from the HRC's List of the Rare Birds of Greece:

Red-breasted Goose Branta ruficollis

Red-throated Diver Gavia stellata

Cattle Egret Bubulcus ibis

Red Knot Calidris canutus

VI. Total evaluation results

In the year 2008, the Committee evaluated 201 registration forms.

Of them, 183 records were accepted to Category A, 3 records added to Category E (92.55%), while 15 records were not accepted (7.45%) to Category A.
